

What context ?

Ever attentive to the evolution of the labor market, the Université du Maine regularly adapts the profile and contents of its programs. Numerous professionals consult with the University on enhancing the programs offered.

They also continue consultation throughout the school year for classes (technical Degrees, Professional Degrees, Professional Masters Degrees, Engineering school) or conferences. One in two students at the University is on a professional career path.

